

Workforce Development Program free webinar supporting women researchers in early and mid-career.

Consumer & Community Involvement (CCI): Tap into local councils to connect with underserved populations

Thursday 31st October, 2.00-3.00pm AEDT online. Free registration HERE

CCI has become an essential part of advancing health research and healthcare delivery, making it more meaningful and relevant to the populations and communities we serve.

“Join our webinar and panel discussion to learn how to partner with councils; building relationships and working with underserved populations to improve community health outcomes”

Program

14.00-14.05	Welcome and introductions: Ms Leslie Arnott Consumer Partnerships Lead, WHRTN Acknowledgement of Country: Professor Aunty Kerrie Doyle
14.05-14.35	Ms Deborah Langridge shares a successful research project in partnership with a WA local council Ms Malavika Kadwadkar as a local council worker, shares how working with councils can lead to community-relevant research Insights from Ms Leslie Arnott
14.35-14.55	Panel discussion: Ms Deborah Langridge Head at Consumer and Community Involvement Program, WAHTN. Ms Malavika Kadwadkar, WHRTN Consumer Advisor/Advocate; Strategic Lead in Gender Equality, City of Casey. Professor Aunty Kerrie Doyle, WHRTN Indigenous Sub-committee Chair; Associate Dean Professor Indigenous Health School of Medicine, WSU.
14.55-15.00	Close: Ms Leslie Arnott